In 2003, Joe Teti was just 23 years old when he went on a solo backpacking trip in Alaska. He was attacked by a bear, mauled, and left for dead. But he somehow managed to survive.

Two years later, Joe was in a small plane that crashed in the remote wilderness of Canada. He was the only survivor.

And then, in 2010, Joe fell 120 feet from a cliff while rock climbing. He broke his back and was paralyzed from the waist down.

But Joe didn't give up. He underwent extensive rehabilitation and eventually regained the use of his legs.

Today, Joe is a motivational speaker and author. He shares his story of survival and resilience to inspire others to never give up on their dreams.

In his book, **Not Sh*tting You**, Joe tells the incredible story of his life. He describes the harrowing details of the bear attack, the plane crash, and the fall. But he also shares his thoughts and feelings about the experience.

Joe writes about the importance of hope, faith, and perseverance. He shows how even in the darkest of times, there is always light to be found.

**Not Sh*tting You** is a powerful and inspiring story that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a testament to the human spirit and the power of never giving up.
